Dr. Barbara Sunderland Manouso, a Texas Distinguished Credentialed Mediator, has been a mediator, arbitrator, and trainer since 1993. She is the CEO of Manouso Mediation and Arbitration, LLC, based in Houston, Texas, and an adjunct professor at the University of St. Thomas in Houston, teaching Global Conflict Management.

She is the current chair of the Education, Research, and Training section of the Association for Conflict Resolution International and the past-president of the Association for Conflict Resolution Houston chapter. She is a member of the Texas Bar Association – ADR Section, Texas Association of Mediators, the Houston, New York City, and New England Chapters for the Association for Conflict Resolution, the Labor Employment Relations Association, and a director of the Evans Center for Mediation at South Texas College of Law. She is a member of many well-regarded mediation associations and serves on a variety of federal and local mediation panels and numerous community boards. She is recognized as an authority in elder care mediation and family disputes.

She has obtained over 2,000 hours in advanced mediation training, including transformative mediation, and has mediated and arbitrated thousands of cases.

Dr. Barbara Sunderland Manouso, Ph.D, MPH, earned her baccalaureate from Brown University in Rhode Island; Master of Public Health, from the University of Texas School of Public Health in Houston; and her doctorate from Nova Southeastern University in Florida in Conflict Analysis and Resolution . She also has a graduate certificate in conflict analysis and resolution and health care.

Being in Bangkok with other professionals interested in sharing their practice ideas and expertise is very appealing. She will be gathering information and lecturing on Dynamics and Doctrine for Professional Mediators. She will also be sharing special ideas and skills to encourage a profitable conflict management practice.
